Please select which driver you are requesting: Read Only Read and Write

I understand that the ODBC driver will allow me to access my ACS data from any application that can open DBISAM tables, regardless of which database management system is handling the data.

By requesting Read and Write, I will no longer hold ACS Technologies Group, Inc. accountable for damage or other data problems that may arise outside of the normal use of the ACS software. If my data becomes corrupt for reasons unrelated to the ACS software, I assume full responsibility for any charges incurred to correct the data, billed at the current per-minute rate for data correction. I also realize that ACS Technologies Group, Inc. will continue its commitment to provide complete software support for the normal use of my ACS software in accordance with the maintenance agreement that I currently have on record.

As the ACS product is upgraded, some of the changes will affect your user-designed reports. You must update the affected reports.

This agreement is entered into with the utmost of good intentions by both parties on this date as noted below.
